Automated installation

This installation method (also named kick-start) is designed for system administrators who wish to roll out pre-configured installations of eZ Publish that require a minimum of interaction with the web-based setup wizard.

To perform such an installation follow "Normal installation method" but before you execute setup wizard create your kickstart.ini configuration.